Waking, Wandering, and Working

A typical day in the life of a Whitman-Hanson student. You wake up, you wander around, and then you go to work.

Athletic Supporters

The support that the Whitman-Hanson Panthers received from all involved has been great. All the spirit any school could contain came together to form one big boost, which gave the Panthers the confidence they needed to win over Rockland. The cheerleaders, determined to do their best, led the crowd in cheers that rocked the field. Some of this enthusiasm can be seen on the faces of cheerleaders Ruth Armstrong and Denise Jarvinen. Robin Sunquist beams as she demonstrates her talent in support of the Panthers. Panther player Mark Tavitian continues to run towards the goal post even though two Rockland players are determined to drag him down. The band also put on a good showing at the Rockland game. Monica Barry does her best at making her support for the Panthers heard by everyone. The Rockland — Whitman-Hanson game resulted in a triumphant victory for W-H over Rockland, 14-13.

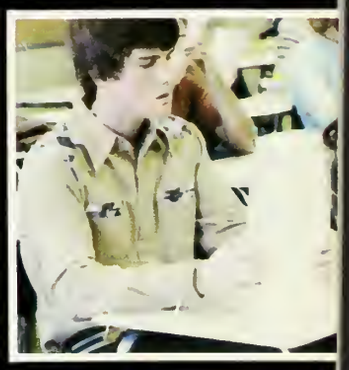
Everyday Comments

"Mike, what do you think of this?"

"It makes me sick."

"It drives me crazy."



"A smile to break the day."

"I don't want to hear it!"

Tranquility

Seniors

We've heard it all before,
my friends, how seniors
are the best.
But we all know it's different, 'cause we're
not like the rest.

Sure we've got the spirit for all our different teams.
Yet — that's not exactly
what the word seniors
means.

Anticipation

"Hey, wait for me!"

Jon anxiously awaits the opportunity to gain yardage in the game. His co-ordination is extremely unique and may explain his background position in the photo. Jon's expression shows the true vitality, which he as a person holds. What more can be said that the picture itself could not explain.

What's worse than first period gym? . . . Give up? First lunch!

"You expect me to eat this?"

"It's not that bad!"

"He must be really hungry!"

"He's actually eating it!"

Seniors

For our class it represents
the top,
the very peak,
The directions we'll all be pointed,
and where we can seek,

Growth as a person,
and togetherness as one,
Acceptance of each other
without comparing what we each might have done.

"He's got to be joking!"

Donny's Delicious Dishes

"I don't know I think he's doing pretty well."

Deep concentration is the essence of perfection.

"Observe, we have here a complex kitchen utensil; referred to as the knife."

"Now for the pièce de resistance."

Who Killed The Great Chefs Of Whitman-Hanson?

Seniors

Ricky does what he does best.

"Come and get me girls."

"Don't stare"

"Are you serious?"

Did you hear what I heard?

Seniors

For these things exist
between us,
as we mingle with
each other,
To get along is one thing
and to care is still another.

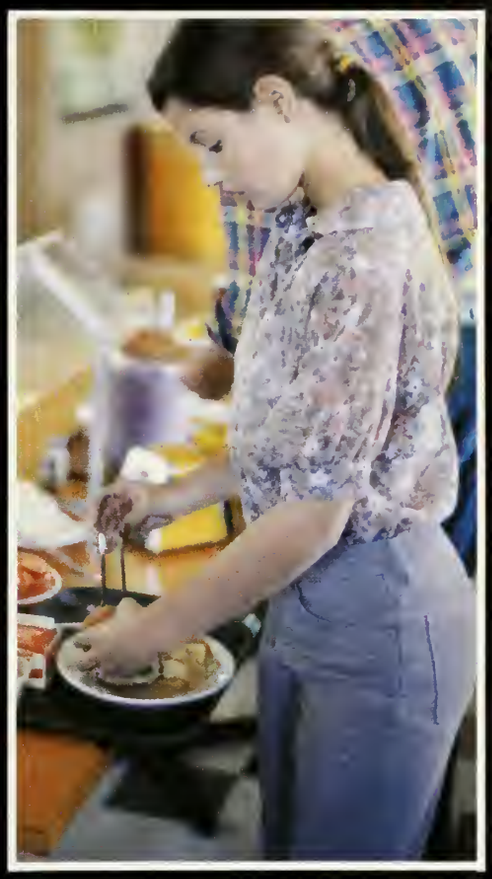
Mirror of Reality

Laurie

Seniors

Mr. Pooler and yearbook editors.



Cissy prepares lunch.

Existence

Seniors

Soon our year will be
ended,
and we'll each go our
separate ways,
But the memories will
always be with us,
for now and everyday.

Through commitment and dedication, the school, in many different ways, has proved that motivation and spirit are important. The band, the drill team, and the majorettes have worked together to entertain anxious onlookers. The cheerleaders have worked together to encourage the players. All have done so with tremendous spirit.

No voice is heard, no sign is made,
No step is on the conscious floor!
Yet Love will dream, and Faith will trust,
(Since He who knows our need is just,)
That somehow, somewhere, meet we must.
Alas for him who never sees
The stars shine through his cypress-trees!
Who, hopeless, lays his dead away,
Nor looks to see the breaking day
Across the mournful marbles play!
Who hath not learned, in hours of faith,
The truth to flesh and sense unknown,
That Life is ever lord of Death,
And Love can never lose its own!

Dennis O'Brie

A Tribute

It is difficult for me to stand before you and speak of O'B and what his friendship has meant to me. It is difficult because I am but one friend, and so many of you share the same feelings and memories of him.

Sometimes people are remembered to us as meaning different things to different people. I think that is unfair to think of O'B in that way. O'B was O'B, nothing more and nothing less, but that was enough for all of us and more. He answered to many names, Dennis, O'B, Coach O'Brien, Doctor D, and each one of us remembers him in different settings, whether it be the West Middle, or Whitman-Hanson, Northeastern, Tahiti, Lakeville, Nantucket or just down on South Avenue, things about him remain constant to all of us including his quick warm smile, that sometimes masked his own feelings but never failed to make you feel important, and how he always seemed to find the time for you no matter how busy he was. But the quality that I will cherish was that O'B was always there when you needed him the most.

Just last week we were sitting in the coaches' room talking about a movie he had seen the night before "ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST" and I can't help but think of an important part in that film when the patients realized that one of their weaknesses was that they were afraid to reach out and touch and help another human being because it left them so vulnerable. If strength in a human being is judged in his ability to reach out and touch a person, then I never have and I dobut if I ever will meet a stronger man than Dennis.

If we could gain anything from this tragedy, could it be for us to sit down with those people who have reached out and helped us through these last few days and thank them for being there when we needed them the most.

What I'm sure we would all give for a minute with O'B now to thank him for all his help. But I guess that would be out of his style; it would embarrass him, as I'm sure he would be embarrassed now to see all of you gathered here in his memory. He neve did enjoy the spotlight; he seemed only to enjoy helping others get there.

If I might address his football team for a moment. Monday night I sat down as I'm sure you all did and tried to reconcile the fact that he was taken from us too soon, unable to share what seemed to us success in our future. But I think this is also unfair of us to judge his happiness or worth on a few wins and losses on a playing field. What he gave us we will never lose. He loved you very much, and he knew that you loved and respected him. No man needs any other indicator of his worth.

To you, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien and Kevin, I hope it has been of some comfort for you to know how much everyone cared for your son and brother. We can only thank you for giving us the opportunity to know and love Dennis for what will always seem too short a time.

And, O'B, may your journey back to the island be a peaceful one.

The winless 1978 season for the girls Cross Country Team was the result of few returning veterans and an injury plagued squad of newcomers. The seasons to come will not be successful unless the student body supports a sport that has so much to offer the girl willing to meet the Challenge.
